

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

A prosthesis defining a fluid flow path includes a cover and a support assembly supporting the cover. The support assembly includes one or more support structures and each support structure includes an outer portion matingly connected to an inner portion, such that the cover is sandwiched between the outer and inner portions.

{j}